SERVICES

PRO SKIN Laser Hair Removal

Laser hair removal is a cosmetic procedure that uses concentrated beams of light to target and destroy the hair follicles. This process inhibits the growth of new hair, resulting in smoother skin with fewer unwanted hairs. Unlike temporary hair removal methods such as shaving or waxing, laser hair removal offers lasting results.

Thanks to Pro Skin Clinic I am now hair and tattoo free. Both Georgia and Ashleigh are very professional and very educated in what they deliver. The salon is clean, well-maintained, and aesthetically pleasing which makes the experience even better. All of the girls in the salon are very welcoming, they offer refreshments when you arrive. I have also received other services from the beautician and hairdresser. I cannot recommend them highly enough.

In addition to removing unwanted hair, laser treatments can also improve the overall texture & appearance of your skin, leaving you with a smooth, flawless complexion.

AREAS

Pre-care

Shave the area 24 hours before your appointment

If the hair is too long it can cause the laser's energy to be absorbed by the visible hair instead of being directed down to the stem cells.

Avoid sun exposure 10 days before your treatment

Sun exposure can increase the risk of complications like burns and pigmentation, If you must be in the sun use SPF 30 or higher on the area.

Ensure all make up, fake tan, creams & deodorants are removed prior to your appointment

This is because these products can contain ingredients that might interact with the laser or hinder the effectiveness of the treatment.

Additionally, they could potentially cause irritation or adverse reactions when exposed to the laser.

Do not wax or pluck 6 weeks before your treatment

Laser hair removal targets the pigment (melanin) in the hair follicle to effectively reduce hair growth, if the follicle is removed by waxing, there won't be a target for the laser's energy to work on.

Wear loose clothing to your appointment

After the procedure your skin might be slightly sensitive and tight clothing could provoke discomfort. Wearing loose clothing during laser hair removal helps prevent friction and irritation on the treated areas.

Post-care

Only shave in between sessions, do not wax or pluck

If you wax or pluck there won't be sufficient hair for the laser to target, which can diminish the effectiveness of the treatment. Shaving only removes the hair above the skin's surface leaving the follicle intact and suitable for laser targeting.

Avoid sun exposure 10 days after treatment

Just as with pre-care avoid direct sun exposure and tanning for 10 days after the treatment. If you must be in the sun use SPF 30 or higher on the treated area.

Avoid excessive sweating 48 hours after your appointment

Excessive sweating as well as activities like exercise, swimming, saunas, and jacuzzis, can lead to increased heat and friction on the treated area after laser hair removal. This can potentially irritate the skin, cause discomfort, or even lead to complications like skin redness, itching, or swelling. Giving your skin 48 hours to recover allows the hair follicles to close and reduces the risk of any adverse reactions.

Avoid deodorant and skin care products for 24 hours post treatment

After laser hair removal your skin can be sensitive and slightly irritated, do not apply deodorant or creams within the first 24 hours. You may take a cold to mild shower 6 hours after having the treatment, as this gives the skin time to cool down but it is important to avoid using harsh products or scrubs on the treated area.

Exfoliate 48 hours after treatment

Exfoliating helps prevent ingrown hairs and can also help speed up the pace of any hair shedding post treatment.

Apply Aloe Vera Gel after treatment

This can help smooth and moisturise the treated skin.

FAQs

What is IPL?

IPL, or Intense Pulsed Light, is a versatile technology utilised across various cosmetic and medical procedures. Commonly applied in dermatology and aesthetics, IPL treatments encompass skin rejuvenation, pigmentation correction, and addressing vascular conditions.

How does IPL work?

IPL functions by emitting a broad spectrum of light wavelengths onto the skin, targeting specific chromophores (colour-absorbing molecules) within the skin. This process, known as selective photothermolysis, generates controlled heat within the targeted tissue, triggering natural healing processes.

What can IPL treat?

Skin Rejuvenation

IPL improves skin appearance by addressing issues like sun damage, age spots, freckles, and uneven skin tone. It stimulates collagen production, promoting smoother, more youthful skin.

Pigmentation Issues

IPL helps diminish hyperpigmentation conditions, sunspots, and vascular lesions.

Vascular Lesions

IPL targets and coagulates blood vessels, treating conditions like spider veins, broken capillaries, and port-wine stains.

Acne Treatment

IPL combats acne by targeting bacteria responsible for outbreaks and reducing skin inflammation.

Rosacea Management

IPL reduces redness and flushing associated with rosacea by targeting underlying blood vessels.

Sun Spots

Intense Pulsed Light (IPL) therapy is a treatment that can help reduce the appearance of sun spots, age spots, and hyperpigmentation. IPL works by using light pulses to break down pigmented cells in the skin, which stimulates the body's natural healing process.

Piercing Studio

We use a cannula for our piercings, ensuring a safer and more comfortable experience. A cannula minimises tissue damage and reduces the risk of swelling and infection. This advanced technique allows for more precise placement and quicker healing, providing you with the best possible results for your new piercing.

We use titanium jewellery because it is hypoallergenic and the safest option for a piercing, minimising the risk of irritation.
